

Project: The DASH home

Creator: Designed by Kariouk Architects; fabricated by Concept Pro-Metal

Materials: Steel

About this staircase: "Because the primary living area for this home is on the second floor, it was crucial that we designed stairs that were dramatic and open so that everyone entering would immediately understand that their destination was upstairs," explains architect Paul Kariouk. The open, sculptural steel stair twists as it rises and is illuminated by an enormous round skylight.